(By Associated Press.)
CINCINNATI, O., June 2.—Although 10,000 people cheered to-day when Sir Huon won the Latonia Derby, there was really little to cause enthusiasm, as only two horses went to the post in the rich event, and it was almost a walk-over for the winner. Summaries:

The teams that play to-morrow, with the grounds they are to meet upon, are: Randolph vs. Madison at Cary and Boulevard; Springfield vs. Leigh at Forest Hill Park, and Central vs. Marshall at the Seminary grounds. Intense interest is being taken by the boys as the season draws to a close, and large crowds are expected to witness the different games to-morrow.

TOURNAMENT WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

Mr. Hooker Wins Men's and Miss Evans Woman's Singles.

LOCAL GROUNDS MUCH PRAISED

Visitors Express Themselves As Delighted With Reception. Hermitage Club Will Hold Local Championships This Month.

The play for the finals in both men's and ladies' singles in the Old Dominion Tennis Tournament at the Hermitage Club Friday, brought to a close the second annual event. In the men's singles, Mr. Hooker, of Springfield, Mass., won from Mr. Whitehead, of Norfolk, 6-1, 6-3, 6-4; and in the challenge round he won from Mr. Fred Pollard, of this city by default. The match between Mr. Hooker and Mr. Whitehead was a noteworthy exhibition of head work and general all round effectiveness. Mr. Hooker's work at the net was at times superb and his service both speedy and accurate. Mr. Whitehead's game was undoubtedly weakened by fact that he was obliged to accept Mr. Hooker's style of game and was therefore continually on the defensive. In the second set, however, it seemed for a while that he might turn the tide in his favor, as he succeeded in running the score to 3-0 in his favor, but finally lost the set 6-3. He deserves great credit, however, for his steady play and but for some flukes at critical times, the match might have been considerably prolonged.

Miss Evans Wins.
In the ladies' singles, challenge round, Miss M. C. Evans, of this city, defended and retained her championship, beating Miss Smith, the challenger, 6-1, 6-2. Miss Evans is a player of considerable tournament experience and has little difficulty in winning. On the other hand, Miss Smith's game is promising and will show up well in later events. The tournament proved a most gratifying success, not alone for the general spirit of enthusiasm, but also for the quality of the play as a whole. The out-of-town contestants are very cordial in their praise of the courts and their entertainment while in the city, and it is very much hoped that they will return next year.

The fact that the local players were not able to outlive the first round in men's singles does not reflect upon them, when it is considered that they met in that round players who are ranked in the United States list from tenth to twenty-fifth. On the other hand, the experience thus secured will doubtless redound to their benefit in the local club championships, which will take place probably the latter part of this month. The holders of the championship in this contest are: Men's singles, Fred Pollard; ladies' singles, Miss M. C. Evans; men's doubles, Messrs. Pollard and Swan.

EMPORIA BASEBALL.

Will Play a Series of Games This Week With the Brownies.

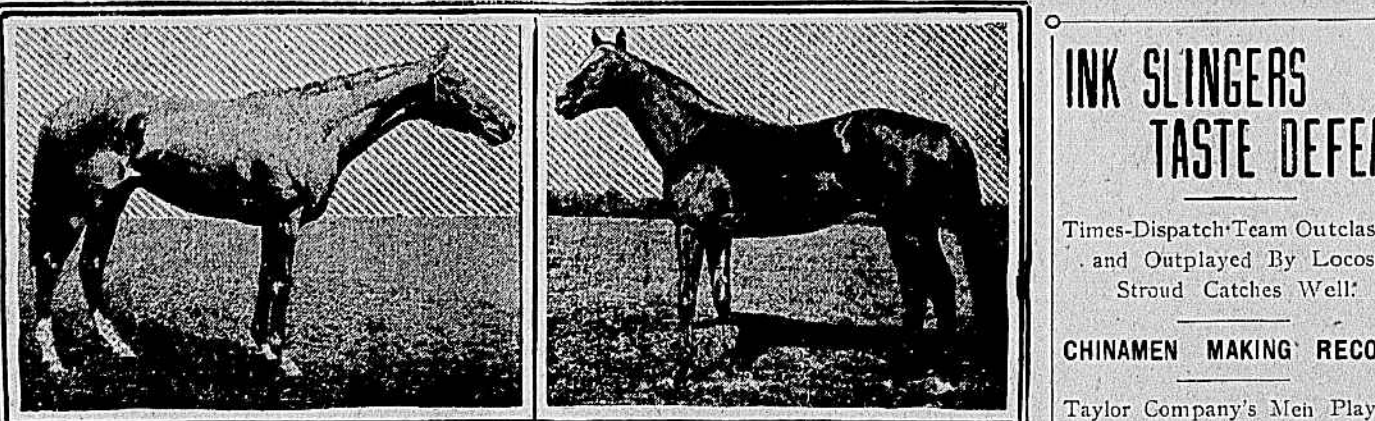

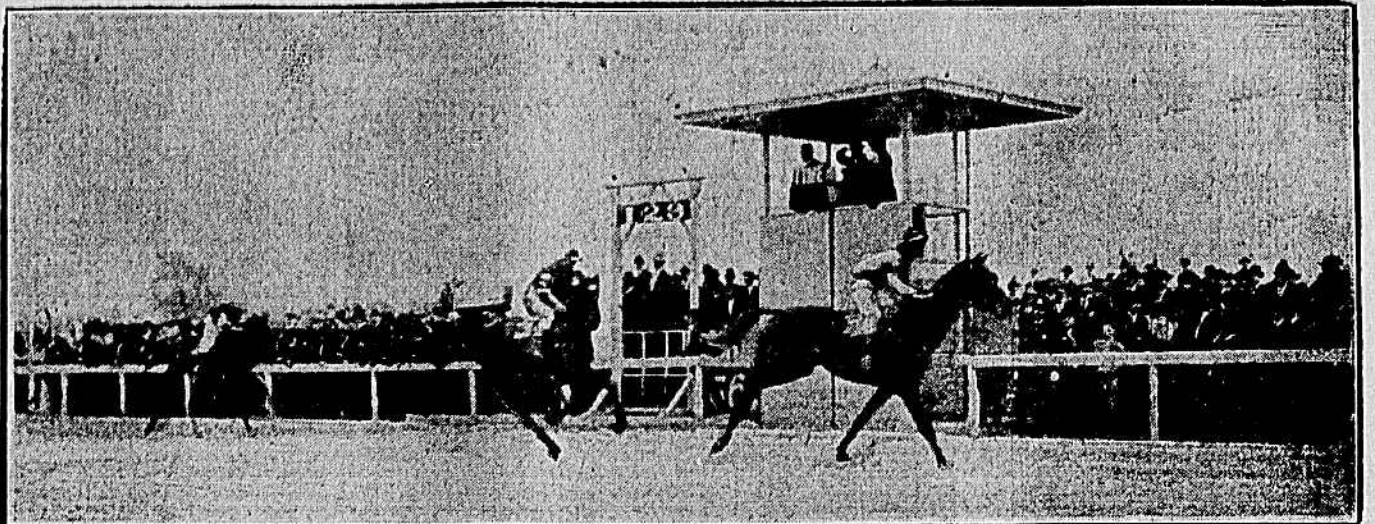

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
EMPORIA, VA., June 2.—The Emporia baseball season opens on the local grounds next week with a series of games on the 6th, 7th and 8th, with the Richmond Brownies. Emporia has an exceptionally strong nine this season and from the practice exercises on the Emporia diamond during the past few days, imply that it will be a strong nine for all comers. The players already engaged for the season are: Pitcher, W. Hobbs; Captain and Outfielder, L. Hobbs; First Base, C. Houghton; Second Base, C. Lindsay; Pitcher and Third Base, C. Doak; Left Field, J. Ennes; Right Field, A. A. Slagle; Center Field, B. Gathright; Shortstop, "Pop" Hill. Barrett, of Suffolk, and Turner of Wake Forest, will also be members of the Emporia team.

Emporia played nine games with the Brownies last season and captured four of this number. G. T. Vincent will manage the Emporia team with Dudley Peebles as assistant. The local field is in splendid condition, and the above contests will be keenly watched by lovers of the national game.

NEW HERESHOFF BOAT IS LAUNCHED

Most Important Cup Race Move Since Lipton Arranged to Challenge Again.

HERALDED AS QUEEN OF SEAS

Built for J. Rodgers Maxwell, of New York—Type Very Different.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BRISTOL, R. I., June 2.—By far the most important America's cup race move since Sir Thomas Lipton arranged to challenge again was the sliding into the water her a few days ago of the Hereshoff's new ninety-footer Queen. She is the first cup-size boat the famous designers have built since they turned out the Reliance, and the first they have constructed under the new measurement rule.

The Queen is for J. Rodgers Maxwell, of New York, and was not built for a defender, but her importance in connection with the world's most famous yachting trophy is that she will demonstrate whether the cup is still safe or not.

Different Type.
Since the Reliance slipped away from the Shamrock III, off Sandy Hook the racing rules have been changed all over the world. The rule under which the last cup contests were sailed has become almost obsolete, and one that calls for a far different type of boat is now in use by nearly every American club, including the New York Yacht Club, the custodian of the cup.

Sir Thomas Lipton's orders to Alfred Mylne for a set of plans for a Shamrock IV, are known to be under the new rule, and with such a challenge coming in October, as Sir Thomas has intimated, there has been a feeling of uncertainty as to the "mug" being a safe as it was should the challenge be accepted.

Under this new rule British and even German designers believe they have a far better chance of winning, but the Queen will prove or disprove their theory before October by demonstrating what the great nautical brain of Captain Nat Hereshoff can do. So, Sir Thomas Lipton's dream of a "homest boat" has been partially realized, but he should be prepared for a sad awakening. The Bristol boat builder who has frustrated all his other attempts

Richmond Gun Club Artists Shoot at Targets Under Most Favorable Circumstances.

TIE FOR LAWRENCE MEDAL

Buchanan and Walsh Each Break Twenty-five Straight Anderson High Gun.

The Richmond Gun Club pulled off one continued series of contests and ties at their regular shooting date yesterday afternoon. There was not one dull minute during the evening, and the young shooters covered themselves with glory.

There was not a particle of breeze to change the course of the targets, and some excellent scores were chalked up by the scorers. In the first event was decided the tie for the Hotel Lawrence medal from May 28th, between Messrs. Tignor and Lawrence, the latter winning by the score of 23 out of 25.

In the contest for the Hotel Lawrence medal yesterday Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Walsh tied with perfect scores. This tie was shot off in one of the most exciting races ever seen on these grounds, a season race, from beginning to the last target, which Walsh broke and thus won a leg on the medal.

Anderson won the high gun medal in the first 50 by breaking 46, the last 25 straight.

Arrangements for the big Fourth-of-July shoot are rapidly progressing. Over $100 in merchandise prizes already donated. The scores, fifty targets in each event, are given here:

Snowballs and Cans.

Undoubtedly the game in the Amateur League that was scheduled for yesterday afternoon was the one at Chestnut Hill between the Snowballs and the "Cans."

Each team was at full strength, "Snowballs" had the first bat and started out with a single in the first, only to be stopped by the Cans, who found Pitcher Lowe easy. It must have been his off-day, for the Cans didn't do a thing but knock fifteen hits off him during the game.

Smith for the winners pitched an excellent game, allowing only three hits, to Burton, Purley and to Pearson, whilst it was evidently the Snowballs' off-day. The detail score follows:

Cassidy, late of the South Atlantic League and now doing the star slab work for Roanoke, did something yesterday afternoon that no other pitcher in the league has been able to do before. Cassidy, before the season—he shut Richmond out. The team behind him played good ball, and the Lawmakers couldn't score a lone tally. Only one curve—a play, and they didn't hit any to amount to anything—which is exceedingly strange for the Lawmakers, and thereby hangs the tale.

From the viewpoint of every man who witnessed yesterday's game, it was one of the best seen here this season. From the very beginning it was recognized that it was a battle between two men in the box, and it was a toss-up as to which would walk off the field the victor. Fate handed the game to Cassidy, but Cassidy had a lot to do with the presentation by Fate. He had speed and curves a-plenty, and the Lawmakers couldn't find him.

The umpire was Mr. Paul Bender, who was the man who handled the indicator in the Twin-City League last year. His decisions were good, and the players were satisfied with what he said.

Looking for Players.

Roanoke played Gunter, a South Atlantic League manager, at first base, having dropped the city to the "Cans" and walking only two men. The team behind him did not hit at opportune times—in fact, they didn't hit any to amount to anything—which is exceedingly strange for the Lawmakers, and thereby hangs the tale.

The grand stand was literally packed, and the majority of those who held seats were ladies. There was nothing in the world but clean and fast ball given to the patrons, and, after witnessing the exhibition, the incidents of a few days ago were entirely forgotten. It was a game fit for the major leagues.

The two runs scored by Roanoke came in the fifth and the seventh innings, and there was not a hit in either of the innings. Roanoke's shortstop, didn't handle one to first in a way to catch McMahon, who was the runner, and McMahon, who was the runner, and scored on a play to catch Workman at first while the bases were full.

Horton sent the ball down to first in the seventh inning and the runner therefered slightly with Cowan, and the ball went to the field. Gunter scored on this play. There had been no hits, yet the runs counted just as much and they beat Richmond in the game yesterday.

Was a Great Game.

In the first, Brown was out from Still to Cowan, and Vanham died from Cuddy to Cowan. Vanham passed a good ov and took the cemetery road at second when he tried to stretch it into a two-bagger. Rose sent the sphere from left garden to the second sack with true aim.

It was one, two, three with the Lawmakers in the first, and Hamilton got a hit in the second. But the hit came
